

Boulevard Lake (Birch Point Park)

Lac Boulevard (Parc Birch Point)

The area of natural plant growth on the edge of the lake is called a “riparian” zone. This helps to keep the water shaded, making it cooler - better for most insects and plants. If you have a riparian zone on your property, then you have fewer geese because it is too difficult for them to get in and out of the water.

La zone de pousse naturelle de plantes au bord du lac se nomme la zone riveraine. Ceci aide l'eau à rester ombragée, la rendant plus froide, ce qui est meilleur pour la plupart des insectes et des plantes. Si vous avez une zone riveraine sur votre propriété, alors vous avez moins de bernaches car il est plus difficile pour elles de rentrer et sortir de l'eau.

post artwork by Cathy Moreau

WHEN I VISITED, THE MOON WAS:

Any riparian zone is a great place to watch for shorebirds nesting in spring. But always keep your distance so you don't disturb mothers or babies!

Clue: Find the Canada Grove and there you will find the post.

Scan Me!

Visit our website with interactive map

