

Mills Block Forest Forêt Mills Block

Areas like this are so important to us! There is a lot of water held in this area and it is slowly released to the rivers so Thunder Bay does not get flooded. You can see some water but there is even more water held underneath the land by the roots of the plants and trees.

Les endroits comme celui-ci sont si importants pour nous ! Il y a beaucoup d'eau présente dans ce lieu et elle se déverse lentement vers les rivières empêchant ainsi Thunder Bay d'être inondée. Vous pouvez y voir de l'eau, mais il y en a encore plus sous la terre près des racines des plantes et des arbres.

post artwork by Emily Kerton

WHEN I VISITED, THE MOON WAS:

Keep your eyes open for a flash of red! Red-winged Blackbirds like to sit on the cattails. Can you imitate their conk-la-ree song?

Clue: Take a relaxing walk south from the parking lot for about 1.5 km until you find an interpretive display to the right. The post will be within view from that point.

Scan Me!

Visit our website with interactive map

