

Trowbridge Falls

Chutes de Trowbridge

Nature will eventually reclaim this bedrock. Look for cracks where plants are starting to grow. Your great great great grandchildren will be the ones to see those changes! Nature can take a long time to break down rocks.

La nature reprendra un jour ou l'autre cette formation rocheuse. Trouvez les fissures dans lesquelles les plantes commencent à pousser. Vos petits petits petits enfants verrons ces changements ! La nature peut prendre du temps pour casser la roche.

post artwork by Keely A.M. Banning

WHEN I VISITED, THE MOON WAS:

Can you find some rock dust? Or sand on the bedrock?
This is the result of how nature breaks down rocks,
by slowly moving and rubbing.

Clue: From the parking lot, walk through the playground area toward the river. Follow the trail upstream until you get to the end of the fence.

Scan Me!

Visit our website with interactive map

